I hope you have a joyous Easter! I look forward to celebrating Easter with the students on Easter Monday!

Curriculum Focus for Next Week

Religion

We will celebrate the Easter season! We will learn that Easter is a time we see and hear signs of new life all around us. These signs are reminders that Jesus is always with us.

Language Arts

We are thinking about important parts of stories while we read. We will learn to separate what's important from what's not important. We are practicing this as we determine main ideas and identify important information about characters.

In writing, we are working on writing narratives that include important details about the main idea of stories. We will include characters and feelings when writing to make stories more interesting.

Math

We have begun a new unit on measuring. We are determining various ways to measure- by length and height, weight, and volume. The students are using various measuring tools- a scale, linking cubes as rulers, and measuring cups.

Science

We have new life in kindergarten- caterpillars! We will observe their life cycle and transformation into butterflies.

School News

On Tuesday, April 18th we will be honoring our family groups with a special "cool to be kind" challenge. We are encouraging the students to do acts of kindness for someone they don't usually play or work with. On Tuesday, please have your student wear their family group color top and regular uniform bottoms. I've checked with each of the kids and they know their colors!
