Classroom News

The auction is this Saturday, March 4th! I hope that you will be able to come and share in the fun! A few things to keep your eye on are: The second graders made a beautiful platter for the silent auction. During the live auction, you will have the opportunity to bid on a collection of self-portraits. There is also a class party to sign up for with the teachers from kindergarten, 1st grade, and me. At this party, your child can stay after school on March 16th until 5 for science engineering activities and of course, some snacks! (you can see the full auction catalog via the school website).

The Eucharist book is coming home for the first time today. Please take a look through chapter one with your child. At the beginning of the book there is a page called “My Faith Journey”, please take some time to do this page with your child about their baptism. (Page vi). You and your child will work on the Faith at Home page (page 11) this weekend.

Parent guides are coming home today with your child. Please send in the Reconciliation parent guides with your child next week. This book is checked out to your child through the library.

Flat Stanley is on the loose in the classroom. He will be enjoying school with your child for the next couple of weeks. He will come home with you over Spring Break to enjoy vacation with your family. The following week he will be mailed to a friend or family member who would love to have a house guest and take some pictures of him on different adventures.

First Reconciliation is March 14th at 6:30. Please be in the church by 6:15. The kids will know where to sit. Students will be sitting by themselves throughout the church. Parents, please sit toward the back of the church. If there are younger siblings in your family who will not be able to sit quietly during the prayer service, we respectfully ask for you to arrange for a sitter.

Next Tuesday March 7th, second grade is in need of a Mystery Reader. Please log on to Volgistics to sign up.
